Face To The Wall

Forces push me. I'm on the other side, but now I keep my secrets locked
What is after me? Show me your naked face, I stab a needle in my eye
Crawling in the deep, hiding away from light
Hiding away and keep the fucking shit outside
Sleeping restless, running breathless, ending up in painful mess,
All my guts are taken by a cold black burning flame

Now the flame turns inside out
And now the Pain is real and loud
Need an answer, were I never had a question for
But in the end, it's killing me
It will rip out my spine and my tongue, it will burn my lungs
And in the end, it's killing me

Is it all to late, or will I brake the time, how many days and years are lost
Forces push me, I'm in the outer rim, for now and ever I will keep my secrets
Crawling in the deep, hiding away from light
Hiding away and keep the fucking shit outside
Sleeping restless, running breathless, ending up in painful mess,
All my guts are taken by a cold black burning flame

I knew that it will hurt, and now the cloud comes on me, I swear, I
Take the pain, I am done, in the rain, let me fall
No way back, all too late, I always thought I was secure
You made me feel secure
